WEDNESDAY MORNING, DRCEM'R. 22, 1858.

THE REASON WHY.

· From the Christian Intelligencer. The awful tragedy which convulsed the upper part of New York a month or two since, has excited much inquiry respecting its probable cause. We find a calm, lucid, and, we doubt not perfectly authentic statement of the matter, in the Advocate and Family Guardian, from which the following is condensed.

It appears that young Gouldy's own mother had died when he was very young, and little is said of her character and influence; in the most satisfactory manner. She negard of all the members of the household .-Methodist Episcopal Church. Their home was made pleasant and inviting. The kindred ties, the social connections and influences of the family, were all of a desirable character. How, then, was it that a son of good talents and manly bearing, baving superior educational advantages and fine prosparricide fratricide and suicide in a single phine, Acetate Potash, Glycerine, Tannin, Io-

The moral fabric that he has been weaving in the loom of life the past year, may per haps furnish some solution to the strange problem. We learn that during the progress of the revival of last winter, this youth was deeply convinced of his lost condition and need of an interest in Christ. He was about to forsake his sins and seek for pardon and salvation, when he was met by a member of a club with whom he had previously become allied and urged to "go once more" to the place of revelry, pay his dues, and remove his name, if he wished, "but not to sneak out like a coward."

This appeal to his pride overcame his weak resolves-and soon he was again in the midst restores its natural color when lost, invigorates of boon compaions. The fallen woman was its growth, &c.; also, Eau Lustral Hair Tonic there, with her blandishments; the Prince of Darkness, too, was there, with his unseen and unresisted fascinations; and when that youth returned to his home, good angels wept and demons triumphed. His soul was polluted. He bad disobeyed the command, "Keep thyself pure." The Holy Spirit was grieved from his heart, and judging from subsequent developments, took His eternal flight. From that hour he would listen to no persuasions to leave the downward road, and ever and anon in the company of the prefligate, he exhibited sad evidence, as occasion prompted, of the fierce fires burning within him. On that fatal night the last vestige of re- Bar Soap; Flaxseed; Rochelle Salts; Calabria straint was manifestly thrown off. "There is a time, we know not when, A point, we know not where, That marks the destiny of men For glory or despair.

This time, in the present case, was the memorable evening when the infatuated youth went to pay what he supposed would do, Mrs. Allen's do., and Zylobalsamum, be his last visit to the club. Then the scale Haul's Eau Lustral, Hayan's Hair Coloring, turned forever. Then his path took the down- Burnett's Colo aine, Jone's and Batcheller's Hair ward direction to despair; and the final result | Dye-constantly on hand, and for sale by was only a question of time.

and be was constrained for a time to inquire ness of the skin, &c., indispensible to the toilet of what he should do to be saved; if when met those liable to chaps from the use of soap, &c. by the tempter and urged to go "once more" | Prepared by in the way of evil, had he taken his Bible, and turned to Prov. vi. 20-24, and read, "My and turned to Prov. vi. 20-24, and read, "My son, keep thy father's commandments, and forsake not the law of thy mother; bind them for use with Steel Pens. Just prepared by son, keep thy father's commandments, and continually upon thy heart, and tie them about thy neck. When theu goest, it shall lead thee; when thou sleepest, it shall keep thee; and when thou awakest, it shall talk to thee. For the commandment is a lamp, and the law is light, and reproofs of instruction are the way of life. To keep thee from the evil woman, from the flattery of the tongue of the strange woman:" Had he given heed to this and similar counsels instead of the taunts of the wicked-then he had been safe, and this chapter of crime and woe left unrecorded. Indifference to these precepts scaled his doom.

ROMANTIC INCIDENT.

We learn, says the Shippensburg (Pa.) News, from persons from that vicinity, that large herds of deer have been seen and several killed, on the South Mountain this season. A few days since, a gentleman residing near Cleversburg, returning home from the mountain, remarked to his wife that, had she accompanied him thereto, she could have seen one of the most imposing sights one could witness-a herd of deer. She told him "that if he would follow her to the sellar, she would show bim as fine a buck as he had seen in the mountain." Accompanying her to the celler, he was surprised to find one of the finest of the herd, a large buck, which she had slain! It appears that in the early part of the evening she heard the dogs on the premises keep up an unusual noise, and pursuing them she found that they were 'worrying a large deer.' Seizing it by the horrs, she called for a knife, which was bastily brought her, when she despatched her captive!
